

PROMINENT YOUNG MAN SUCCUMBS

Wearen Kennedy Dies at His Home Here—Was Tobacco Expert—Highly Esteemed

Wearen Kennedy, one of the best known young business men of Richmond, passed away at his home on Smith-Ballard street Wednesday morning about nine o'clock. His wife and two children survive.

Mr. Kennedy had been quite ill for several weeks with acute sleeping sickness and a complication of troubles. He began to suffer while on the Carolina markets where he bought tobacco for the American Tobacco Company during the fall. He had to come home before the market closed, but regained his strength somewhat and resumed his work when the local markets opened early in January. A few weeks ago, however, his health failed entirely, and he was forced to take his bed, from which he did not arise, sinking rapidly until the end Wednesday morning.

His wife and two children, and two brothers, Jesse Kennedy, of Red House, and Capt. D. W. Kennedy, of the Kennedy Produce Company, of this city, survive, as well as his aged father, J. H. Kennedy, of Frankfort, and three sisters, Mrs. Calvin Galloway, Mrs. James C. Powell, of Irvine, and Mrs. L. J. Tipton, of Ravensma. Capt. Kennedy is his twin.

Mr. Kennedy was nearly 30 years of age. He was a consistent member of the First Christian church, a prominent Knights of Pythias, E. R. and Red Man, a leading democratic worker and popular with everyone.

He was a splendid, upright young man in every thing the word implies. Many hearts will mourn at his untimely crossing of the bar.

Mr. Kennedy made the race for the democratic nomination for Mayor in 1917 and came within an eyelash of winning, being defeated by Mayor Evans by a plurality of but 11 votes. He took the vicissitudes of politics like the good game democrat that he was and went to work for the ticket, as usual. He had been in business in Richmond for several years and was held in highest esteem by everyone who knew him.

Funeral services will be held at his home on Smith-Ballard street, Thursday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock conducted by his pastor, Dr. Homer W. Carpenter. Interment will be in the Richmond cemetery. The pallbearers will be:

Honorary—Messrs. W. S. Judy, Robert Smithson, R. E. Head, J. M. Fuller, Vernon Lee, J. R. Hutchins, W. E. Luxon, and A. L. Zeigler, all his associates in the tobacco business.

Active—Messrs. R. E. Million, Paul Burnam, Elmer Deatherage, James W. Wagers, John H. Gibson, Luther Powell, W. S. Broadus and Edwin C. Stockton, members of the three lodges to which he belonged.

No Tobacco Sales Thursday

The market will close at noon Thursday and open at 9:00 o'clock Friday morning—By order of the Richmond Board of Trade, Stone W. Norman, Supervisor of Sales.

(By Associated Press)
Lexington, Ky., Feb. 16.—Twenty Kentucky cows owned by eight different dairymen and including fourteen Jerseys and six Holsteins won places on the January "Honor Roll" of the state by producing more than three pounds of butterfat during the two days that they were tested under the supervision of the State College of Agriculture, according to an announcement just made by Prof. J. J. Hooper, head of the Dairy Department of the college.

Shelby county led the list with nine cows that produced more than three pounds of butterfat. These were Jerseys owned by the Allen Dale farms at Shelbyville, Oldham county was second with seven and Todd, Boone, Christian and Mason each had one. Two Holsteins in the Gray Von Allman herd gave more than 52 pounds of milk daily while the test was on, while another in the same herd produced more than 50 pounds daily. Another cow of the same breed in the C. W. Smith herd also produced more than 50 pounds daily.

"THE WHOLE WORLD IS A HOSPITAL"

With Christ the Great Physician in Charge, Says Dr. Ainslie Tuesday Night

"The world is a hospital and Jesus Christ, the Great Physician, is the only one who can heal the disease of the soul," said Dr. Ainslie Tuesday night at the First Christian church. "Without holiness no man can see God." The word holy means healthy, perfect. For a soul to grow to perfection, to attain holiness, it must be healthy, it must be rid of disease. The diseases of the soul, discussed by Dr. Ainslie, were love of money, impatience and worry, slanderous talk and inforgiveness.

The auditorium of the church was filled to capacity. At the close of the service, there were two confessions.

Dr. Ainslie's audiences listen to him with the most intense interest. He is a man with a message, the message that a restless world wants and needs to hear. Not often is a town of this size so privileged as to have a man of Dr. Ainslie's talent and ability spend a week with them, talking of vital things.

These meetings will of a necessity come to a close Friday evening, and the opportunity of hearing such talks and sermons should not be allowed to pass. The music is good; Miss Cynthia Davison's solos are an attractive feature; and there is a cordial welcome for all at both afternoon and evening services.

EASTERN LOSES TO ST. MARY'S

Once more a visiting basketball team carried away the long end of the score after playing a local team. This time St. Mary's College was the victor, the Eastern Normal the victim. The game was played on the Madison gym Tuesday night. The visitors ran up a score of 45 to 15 on our boys.

When the men from St. Mary's appeared on the floor for practice, it was evident to every spectator that there was a five-man team before them. Their snappy practice was not a flash in the pan, but an indication of the type of basketball they played throughout the entire 40 minutes. The Catholic boys brought the best team to the city that has appeared here for several seasons.

The Normal team played good basketball, but was plainly outclassed. Malloy was the only man who could find the net with any regularity. Combs and Fox both played a fast and aggressive game for the local team. Coach Hem-bree made several changes in the lineup, but was unable to check the onslaught of the visitors.

Gilligan of Berea, referee.

The Normal team will play the Sue Bennett Memorial School on the Madison gym floor next Saturday night.

TONG WAR BREAKS OUT IN CALIFORNIA

(By Associated Press)

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 16.—Chinese of San Francisco, Los Angeles and Stockton today are entrenched behind closed doors and shuttered windows and are hidden deep from possible attacks which began last night with a fresh Tong war during the celebration of Chinese new year. Armed men in three cities were sent into the Chinese district to guard against new outbreaks.

Two Chinese merchants were killed and another wounded in Los Angeles. One was killed and three wounded here and one wounded at Stockton. A number of Chinamen were arrested but stubbornly declined to talk. The outbreak, however, seems the result of a feud between the Hop Sing and Bing Kong Tongs.

"OTHELLO" INFLAMED MASTERS JURYMEN

As Recited by Crutcher, Say Young Man's Attorneys, Who Ask New Trial of Court

What lawyers at the local bar say are perhaps the most original and unusual grounds for a new trial of a case, were contained in a motion filed in the Madison circuit court by Attorneys C. C. Wallace and J. C. Chenault, representing Floyd Masters, sentenced to five years in the penitentiary for betraying Minnie Warren. In the written motion filed with the court, there are five causes cited by the attorneys as grounds for a new trial but the one which attracted the interest of those who read the motion, was that a new trial should be given Masters.

"Because the Commonwealth's Attorney in his argument before the jury recited and acted Shakespeare's drama, known as 'Othello,' the recitation and acting of said drama tending to inflame the jury."

Other grounds offered were that the jury was allowed to separate and mingle with the people during the trial; that because the court failed to instruct the jury not to make up their minds as to guilt or innocence until the case had been finally submitted to them; that because the court did not instruct the jury not to consider the case until it had been finally submitted to them; and because the jury did not consider the case, but returned its verdict, inflicting the extreme penalty under the law, within less than five minutes after retiring to the jury room.

Circuit court has been busy, mostly with civil cases the first part of this week. The grand jury met again Wednesday, however, and has quite a bit of work before it, it is said.

Judge Shackelford appointed Messrs. C. C. Coy, Elmer Deatherage and Joseph West as Jury Commissioners to fill the wheel. They will meet February 21st for that duty.

The suit of V. A. Leer and Co., against the L. & N. railroad for damages growing out of a shipment of mules to Blackey, up in the mountains, was decided in favor of the plaintiff, who was given judgment for $330.

A demurrer filed by attorneys for G. W. Goodloe to the suit brought against him by Harold Oldham for collection of an alleged debt amounting to about $500, was sustained, and the case was dismissed.

On account of the very serious illness of his brother, Wearen Kennedy, Judge Shackelford excused Jesse Kennedy from the jury box, early Wednesday morning. News came a little later to the court room that Mr. Kennedy was dead, and general sympathy was expressed for Mr. Kennedy and the entire family.

The suit of C. C. Clark against B. M. McGuire, over a rental contract, was dismissed, having been settled.

The suit of Fred Whitaker against the L. & N. was also dismissed, having been settled.

Court went into trial Wednesday morning of the suit of Lyons and Durham against Lonnie Abrams and Alvin Azbill. The plaintiffs are from Lebanon. The suit grew out of an alleged sale of a stock of goods in the army store on East Main street last November.

The plaintiffs claimed that they sold the goods to Mr. Abrams and Mr. Azbill for $1,600 and a Mitchell car; that the deal was closed on the evening of November 25th, and the key to the storeroom turned over to the defendants and the key of the car to the plaintiffs. However, that night the entire stock, uninsured was destroyed by the fire that swept almost the entire block, destroying Soper's mill and a number of small storerooms and the Belue storeroom. The plaintiffs claimed when they called upon defendants to pay them the amount due as cash purchase price the next day, that it was claimed that the deal had not been completed, legally or otherwise. Messrs. Abrams and Azbill contended that the sale was not to become effective unless after examination by a mechanic the next day, the car was found to be in good shape, and also that
